SHERIFF OF ST. CLAIR COUNTY, ILLINOIS FEARS A RIOT.

ALLEGED CONFESSION MADE

Said Negro Admitted He Shot Motor Man on Street Car on Saturday.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 20.—(By Associated Press.)—Sheriff Cahoon of St. Clair county, Ill., today ordered additional riot guns for the protection of the Belleville jail in case of any demonstration against Will Clark, a negro, who was identified as the robber who shot and killed Motorman Gendy and seriously wounded Conductor O'Brien, with robbery as a motive, in East St. Louis on Saturday night. Besides those guns the sheriff and his force are supplied with small arms.

Made Confession.

The East St. Louis police announced today that Clark confessed to them last night that it was he who had killed Gendy and wounded O'Brien.

Night Chief Doyle and Acting Chief of Police Yowell are the officials said to have heard the admission by Clark.

Troops Ordered Out.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 20.—Governor Deneen has issued orders for eight companies of the Fourth Infantry to hold themselves in readiness to proceed to East St. Louis or Belleville to protect the negro prisoners arrested on suspicion of murdering the conductor of a street car at East St. Louis. The sheriff of St. Clair county told the governor over the telephone this morning that while everything was quiet at the jail, there was a deep undercurrent of feeling both in Belleville and East St. Louis and it would be better to have troops in readiness to be sent there.

LAST RUSH FOR THE SALE OF THE STAMPS

The Little Christmas Stamp Sale Will Be Sprinkled From Now On in the Whole State.

(By Associated Press.)—Milwaukee, Dec. 20.—We are in the midst of a great crusade against the white plague—the miniature of today, which demands in the United States alone two victims every minute and marks every seventh grave with the ghastly sign. This terror must be stamped out and destroyed. Will you not help to do this? We are trying to sell 3,000,000 Wisconsin Christmas stamps by New Year's eve. The bulk must be disposed of before Christmas day. There remains only a short time, and only half of the total number has been sold. If Wisconsin is to progress, not recede, in this battle against consumption, the entire number must be disposed of.

"We ask your assistance to accomplish this. Will you do so in the closing days of the campaign if you have or have not done so before?"

This appeal was sent broadcast today by the executive committee of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association in an effort to arouse interest in the sale of Christmas stamps. Campaign Manager Douglas says approximately 1,500,000 have thus far been sold, and a like number is now in the hands of the 250 local campaign managers. They have worked hard and earnestly, but must have additional support now.

"Wisconsin reached its mark last year and attracted the notice of the entire country," said Mr. Douglas. "This attention is still focused upon us, for our neighbors are wondering if we can again reach the mark set at the start of the 1909 campaign. Wisconsin is looked upon as a state that does things, and it would be giving this state a black eye if it were to fail now. We need the hearty cooperation of all people. This is their fight for tuberculosis and is no right of persons."

"Christmas stamps are on sale everywhere. The price is one cent each, in bulk, or in books of 10, 25, 50, 100 and 1,000 which cost 10, 25 and 50 cents, $5.00 and $10.00 respectively."

CALIFORNIA ARISTOCRATS DO NOT LIKE THE COMMON HERD

"Tony" Residents of Fashionable Suburbs Oppose Annexation To San Mateo.

(By Associated Press.)—San Mateo, Cal., Dec. 20.—No national or state election, it is said to be, is so important as the one now being fought among the wealthy and aristocratic residents of El Cerrito and Highland parks as to whether they should be incorporated with San Mateo.

In El Cerrito and Highland parks reside the cream of California aristocracy, including the De Babias, the Howes, the Templeton Crockers and other families always found among the top-pliers in the society columns of the San Francisco papers. These families have no desire to mix with the common herd, so to speak, and as a consequence they have set up a heroic fight to thereby retain their exclusiveness. But as there is a large vote in East San Mateo and Hayward and in the other two and as both of these districts favor annexation to San Mateo, it is probable that when the ballots are counted the residents of El Cerrito and Highland parks will find that their fight was in vain.

The decision of the Supreme Court will probably not be forthcoming until after that tribunal reassembles after the holiday recess early in January.

MURDERESS WILL BE TRIED AGAIN

DATE OF MRS. EMMA LE DOUX'S SECOND TRIAL IS SET.

DEATH MAY BALK PLANS

California Woman Possesses Iron Nerves But Her Health Has Failed Rapidly.

(By Associated Press.)

Stockton, Cal., Dec. 20.—Though her second trial is set to begin a few weeks hence, it now appears to be a matter of doubt whether Mrs. Emma Le Doux, convicted of one of the most sensational murders ever committed in California, will ever again have to face a judge and jury. During the four years she has spent in jail, a part of the time under sentence of death, the woman has been gradually falling in health and now appears to be in the last stages of consumption. In view of this fact it is more than likely that when her case is called the first week in February the trial will be indefinitely postponed.

At the time of her first trial Mrs. Doux was but thirty-two years of age, and possessed of more than ordinary good looks. Born and reared in the foothills of the Sierras, she developed early into a comely womanhood and had many admirers. At 16 she married Charles W. Barrett, whom she divorced four years later to marry William Williams, with whom she lived six years. Williams died, and three years later she married Albert McVicar. After two years they separated, and the woman, claiming to believe that McVicar had killed married Eugene Le Doux, a playmate of her childhood.

The murder of McVicar, her third husband, was the crime for which Mrs. Le Doux was tried, convicted and sentenced to death. On the evening of March 21, 1906, the body of McVicar was found crushed into a trunk left on the platform of the Southern Pacific depot in this city. The stomach of the trunk was found after the trunk was placed in the baggage room. An investigation disclosed the remains, and the following day an expressman gave a description of the woman who employed him to move the trunk to the depot. She was Mrs. Le Doux, whom McVicar had claimed as his rightful wife after she had separated from him and married again.

She was traced to San Francisco, and on March 25 was arrested at Antioch and brought to Stockton. She admitted buying the trunk and used around the receptacle, but claimed that it was not hers. "Joe Miller" had at the point of a pistol, compelled her to purchase the trunk and rope after he turned from a drinking bout. Miller was never located, but Joe Miller, who met Mrs. Le Doux at the Royal Hotel in San Francisco, was brought into the case but later released.

The trial of Mrs. Le Doux lasted fifteen days and proved most sensational throughout. The theory of the prosecution was that Mrs. Le Doux, finding McVicar the only obstacle in the way of her own peace, had enticed him away from Jamestown, where he had been working, and after inducing him to drink heavily had killed him by administering morphine in his coffee.

Even after her conviction there were many persons who continued to doubt whether the woman had actually committed the murder. But there was no doubt that it was she who had purchased the trunk and undertook to conceal the crime by having the body shipped in the trunk to the mining district, where the hundreds of old shirts and prospect holes would have furnished a safe disposal of the gruesome relic.

During her long imprisonment the woman had maintained silence even to her attorney and her mother, refusing always to discuss the case beyond certain points, which has led many to believe that she may have been shouldering a responsibility not her own when she undertook to conceal the murder by disposing of the body.

The convicted murderess has never for a moment seemed to doubt that she would eventually escape the gallows. From the time of her arrest she has been a puzzle to jurors and all others who have come in contact with her. Her nerve has been that of the strongest man, though bodily she has been steadily wasting away. She never broke down, even under the most severe strain, and all the devices of the prosecution to secure a confession from her were in vain.

When brought before Judge W. B. Miller recently to have the date set for the second trial the woman appeared to be but a shadow of her former self, but her iron nerve was still apparent. It is probable, however, unless her condition improves, she may never be called upon to go through the ordeal of another trial.

MAKES REPORT ON INSURANCE WORK

Commissioner of Insurance Says It Has Grown in State in Past Year.

The increase in the amount of life insurance in force in Wisconsin, under the new laws, is one of the striking things appearing from the annual life report just issued by Commissioner of Insurance George E. Beedle. The report states:

"During the year the policies in force in old line life insurance companies doing business in this state increased in amount almost 9% million dollars. The increase in pension life associations was 3 million dollars; and in mutual benefit societies over 18 million dollars. Only in association insurance is the increase in business in force less than it was in 1907. In the fraternal the increase is greater by one-third and in the old line the increase has almost doubled. Not only has there been a substantial increase in the business in force but the amount of terminations has substantially decreased showing a loss amount of forfeitures. This is the more encouraging in that the business of companies as a whole throughout the country shows an increasing amount of terminations, and speaks well for the healthy condition of the business within this state."

The report discusses the requirement of the new laws that the first year expense be kept within the provision for that purpose in the premium. It contrasts the statements made under the former practice by printing tables showing both statements for 1908, commenting on this it says:

"There can be no doubt that companies in being compelled to place a limit upon their expenses have been encouraged to make substantial reduction in the actual expenses in addition to the savings which the new law has given to policyholders in compelling a reduction of the premium itself."

Complete statistical tables are given showing the business and condition of the companies which have withdrawn from the state. Of the twenty-three companies which withdrew only six have wholly failed to make any report.

In discussing the laws enacted at the last session attention is called to the fact that "but three slight changes were made in the existing life laws of general application, and that these were more changes in phraseology carrying out the interpretation theretofore made by the department. Bills to amend the laws limiting the expense provision in the premium, practically repealing these laws, met with such slight encouragement in the legislature that they were not even seriously pressed."

The new legislation, passed largely at the instance of the department of insurance, requires certain provisions in every policy, fixes the standard and method valuation of policies of life and industrial insurance, and eliminates the harsh rule of warranty heretofore often applied against the insured.

The policy provisions required are simple but of the highest importance. One requires the policy to state the mortality interest and "expense" assumptions on which the reserve is to be computed. The investigating committee of 1908 recommended this law with the difference that the actual figures be set forth in a manner intelligible to every policyholder, while under the law as secured, meaning the same thing, only an expert mathematician having some knowledge of insurance can use the information. However the law is a long step in advance being the first to really make the contract definite on the question of just how much of the policyholder's money is to be used currently each year for insurance and expenses and how much is to be accumulated to his credit.

Another policy provision requires that the benefits shall be of equal value. It does away with the heavy charges made by companies on benefits of paid up and extended insurance of which the policyholder has no means of estimating the real value. The valuation law enacted is practically that recommended by the investigating committee. The fundamental principle of this is that, after taking out of the premium each year the amount the company has assumed to be necessary for expenses and death claims, the remainder shall be carried to the credit of the policy as the reserve. In other words the companies which he entered with the actual money which they hold as trust funds for the insured, and not with a fictitious and arbitrary amount which often has to be taken from the surplus of older policyholders.

On the law providing that warranties in insurance shall only have the effect of representations, the report says: "The great number of litigated cases in the reports emphasized the need of this change. Yet, notwithstanding a law quite similar had been in force in Massachusetts for about thirty years, and many states have recently passed policy-provision laws containing a clause to the same effect, no enactment of the session met with more serious opposition. This law applies equally to all other kinds of insurance."

Special attention is called to the attempt made at the last session to pass a law to give the department supervision over a solicitation and sale of stock in insurance companies, and to the uncertainty attending such an investment.

The report refers to the discussion in the life report for suggestions as to needed legislation. This brings to the front the situation resulting from a vote at the close of last session whereby the department is practically prevented from examining companies. It is known that several life companies are considering coming back into Wisconsin and before any company can be re-admitted the law requires that it be thoroughly examined by the insurance department. Recent disclosures in several eastern companies doing business in this state urgently demand such examinations. However as the law stands and is interpreted by the attorney general there is no way in which the expense of such examination can be met, no matter how vital it might be to the interest of policyholders of Wisconsin.

TAX-PAYING TIME HERE WITH MERRY, MERRY CHRISTMAS.

Pay Early and Avoid the Rush Is City Treasurer's Plea—Average Tribute to Be $18 per $1,000.

Tax collection time is here again, along with the season of good cheer. The rolls have been turned over to City Treasurer James Fathery by City Clerk Cummings and the former opened the coffers to receive the tribute money this morning. Property owners have until January 31 to square themselves with the world about them. After that a penalty of three per cent will be added.

Last year, in order to compass the adjustment so that all the taxes could be paid simultaneously, it was necessary to collect for fifteen months. The average rate for the entire city was $19 per $1,000 valuation. This year the average is $18, but the decrease in amount is not in ratio to the decrease in time. As a matter of fact taxes are a trifle lighter.

Because it has been deemed advisable to make a $5,000 fund to pay for the Madison street storm sewer and carry out contemplated sewer and street improvements elsewhere in their behalf, third ward residents will pay the highest tax rate. The luxury of living and owning property will cost them $19.18 per thousand—just two dollars and a cent more than their less ambitious neighbors in the second ward.

The city tax is $11.58. The state and county must have $4,434 per thousand. Here is the schedule by wards:

Ward, City Tax, Ward, S. & C. Total	1st	11.58	11.58	11.58	17.05
2nd	11.58	11.07	4.40	17.05
3rd	11.58	11.11	4.40	19.18
4th	11.58	1.36	4.40	17.34
5th	11.58	2.51	4.40	18.58

LANDLORD WILSON TO ESCAPE TRIAL

Judge Rosa Found the Evidence Against Him on Charge of Leasing Rooms for Immoral Purposes Insufficient.

Judge Rosa, in the Beloit municipal court today, found the evidence insufficient to hold W. W. Wilson, proprietor of the Wilson hotel, on the charge of leasing rooms for immoral purposes. Complaint was made against him at the same time Battle Root of this city and several Beloit youths were placed under arrest. It appeared that the lease of the hotel was in Mrs. Wilson's name and that the room in question was not assigned by him in person.

Herbert Dodge, who has been sojourning in the county jail pending a hearing on the charge of abandoning his wife and children, waived examination this morning and his trial was set for Monday, Dec. 27.

George Piquette, charged with a similar offense, was given another chance on recommendation of District Attorney J. L. Fisher, having promised to go to work in the Fairbanks-Morse plant and turn his wages over to his family.

She is billed as the "singer on horse back," and her press agent is authority for the statement that the reason her beautiful horse is so docile is that her performance when she appears in full white tight fitting costume mounted on her marble-white horse. Her performance consists of five sections: introducing, songs, serpentine dancing and high school riding with artistic and effective light effects.

Now is the season when practical consideration of others is a beautiful practice. If you want to do a real kindness to someone whom you love and who is dependent upon you, there is nothing more appropriate than to send that person to me.

Hanley Bros.*Apples For Sleeplessness

The apple is such a common fruit, says a medical writer, that very few persons are familiar with its remarkable efficacious medical properties. Everybody ought to know that the very best thing they can do is to eat apples just before retiring for the night.

Persons afflicted with the mysterious of the fruit are liable to throw up their hands in horror at the vision of a quack's advertisement, but suggestion may amount to a delicate system by the eating of the ripe and juicy apple before going to bed.

The apple is an excellent brain food, because it has more phosphoric acid in easily digested shape than any other fruit. It incites the action of the liver, promotes sound, healthy sleep, and thoroughly cleanses the mouth. This is not all; the apple prevents indigestion and throat diseases, is an excellent laxative and because of these good qualities

A Tobacco Pouch.

When wife or daughter makes a tobacco pouch for the father he's always delighted. A pretty pouch in rich brown or dark green, lined with a maroon silk, would be attractive when the edges are plinked and a drawstring of heavy silk with long tassels run in near the top. It's not the kid, the lining or the cord that makes these bags so unusual, for without the monogram or crest done in gilt thread or in bright colored silks the pouches, aside from being handmade, would be quite the same as those bought in the shops. But with an attractive emblem or two or three initials prettily embroidered in one corner the pouches are presents any man, no matter how unrefined with gifts, would be glad to receive at Christmas.

Not New but Well Liked Present.

Knitted or crocheted ties, though not novelties, will be desirable gifts, for they are serviceable and, being made by hand, are valuable necessities to any wardrobe. In plain green, dark cardinal or made of a combination of two tone effects or of two strongly contrasting colors, such as black and red or orange and blue, they are striking contrasts as neckwear.

The Ever Useful Shaving Case.

An attractive gift for a man is a shaving case. This is composed of white tissue paper cut to the proper size, while the outside case of blue linen, with the seams outlined in white silk, is in the shape of a football. The top is fastened with inch wide satin ribbon of any color.

A Christmas Present.

It is not often that one can find a suitable gift for an elderly man whose eyes are weak. A reading glass of the new kind, with a handle and a leather case, would be acceptable. The person in doubt should experiment with this as a Christmas gift this year.

Advice to the Stayer.

There are few people in the world who have time-to-go sense. No guest is welcome forever. If you are in the habit of staying until every one begins to look as if that tired feeling was getting the better of their politeness, quit it. The sooner you go, the more you will be urged to come again.—Aitchison Globe.

RECORD FOR THE LINKS.

Young Scadda—Well, dad, I can refer you to my tailor. He says I'm the slowest man he's got on his books.
The advertisements will suggest what to give as gifts.

A Home Index.

We experienced great difficulty in keeping track of bills, receipts and other important household papers, until we got an indexed letter file, such as is used in offices. Now, when question arises concerning a bill, it is quickly settled by producing the file. These are inexpensive and occupy very little room.—Harper's Bazar.

Useful, Friends.

People are loved not for their goodness, their beauty, their wit or their wisdom, but for their utility. "Can he or she be of any use to me?" is the question which arises in the minds of many men and women when introduced, and if the answer is in the negative there is no continuance of the acquaintance.—Gentlewoman.

Eastern Vanity.

In addition to treachery and a certain innate love of cruelty, the oriental nature, as present in the ruling classes, is apt to be superabundantly endowed with a sense of its own importance, as is manifested in the ornate, elaborate and high-sounding titles assumed by eastern potentates.

London Fog Forty Years Ago.

The fog reigns in a world of its own—a world of illusions, of exaggerations, of phantasms. Forty years ago a London fog was described something like being embedded in a dilution of yellow, pease pudding, just thick enough to get through it without being wholly choked or completely suffocated.—London Strand Magazine.

Early Days of Railroad.

When the first passenger train in England took its trial spin along the tracks of the Stockton & Darlington railway in 1825, a horseman, bearing a red danger flag, galloped along just ahead of the engine to warn the crowds of spectators, and to act as part of what was intended as a 'railway pageant.'

The Only News.

"The only news I have to tell you," wrote the Billyville citizen, "is—the river has riz an' drowned all yer cattle, an' yer uncle has broke fall an' his right leg; also lightnin' killed yer two mules ten minutes 'fore the sheriff came to levy on 'em!"

Christmas Presents FOR MOTHER

The searcher after Christmas novelties will find nothing more charming than the doll workbags and dainty little gifts made from silks and old world brocades. These novelties quaintly and profitably proffer their Parisian origin, and, like most importations from the French capital, they are expensive. But from a description of some of these charming trifles their home manufacture is not difficult. Most attractive is a doll workbag. The head of a pretty wax doll, the size of which depends, of course, upon the size of the workbag, you wish to make, is purchased. A quaint coat suitable for the doll's head, which lies in a full bow under the chin. Pieces of buckram standing out to form shoulders is next arranged about the doll's neck, and over this is fitted an old fashioned fichu of silk edged with puddings of the same. This dressed up head forms the top of the bag, the bag itself being a scanty skirt of silk trimmed with

MILTON COLLEGE VS. "Y" TEAM TOMORROW

Interesting and Exciting Basketball Game to Be Played at Y. M. C. A. Tuesday Evening.

Milton college basketball team, for many years the rival of the local association five, are to play the Y. M. C. A. first quintet here tomorrow night at the Y. M. C. A. building. The college five is a fast aggregation with a reputation for clean playing so that the "Y" team is to be an exception to the rule. The Y. M. C. A. team, which is composed largely of the first team of intermediates, is nothing slow and will not take a back seat for any body. Janesville's lineup will be as follows: Murphy and Strang, forwards; Hemming, center; Howard Green and Francis Green, guards.

The game will be called at 7:15 in order to allow the Milton players to catch the last train back to the village.

LARGE CROWDS AT SHOWS GIVEN BY LYMAN H. HOWE

Moving Pictures Presented at Myers Theatre Saturday Afternoon and Evening Were Very Pleasing.

Lyman H. Howe, whose excellent pictures have won him quite a reputation in this city, appeared at the Myers theatre Saturday afternoon, and evening with a set of pictures and entertainment that were as good and even better than any before presented by him in this city. The slides were all new, novel and instructive and Mr. Howe's machine, expertly handled, does not produce the eye strain so common in many machines. A realistic effect was added to the views by the presence of stage hands and children behind the scenes who accompanied each picture with a sound appropriate to the view on the screen. Large audiences attended both the afternoon and evening shows.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

LOVE SPEECHES VERSUS DEEDS.

"Do you love your wife? If you do, then do not fail to tell her so. Let no day go by without some word of affection."

Thus do the advisory writers admonish the married man.

Which is very well, but—

Here is a Minneapolis woman who has sued her husband for divorce because he spends his time making love to her instead of working to support her.

In her complaint this woman says her husband kisses her until she is sick of his attentions. He calls her all manner of pet names, but does nothing to help her.

Doubtless she thinks with the old saying that "fine words butter no parsnips."

For this husband not only fails to butter the parsnips, but compels her to hustle about to get the parsnips.

The wife is right.

Protestations of love with nothing to back them up are like the cracking of thumbs under the put-nose without significance.

Love is of account only in action. Love is proved by deeds. It must do as well as say. Words may satisfy a heart hunger for awhile, but in the meantime the stomach may grow hungry, and as between heart and stomach the former can stand the longer siege of poverty.

Even the novelist, who is expert in love conversation, is under compulsion to get a move on his lover that he may verify the soft talk.

The husband who really loves his wife will strive, with all his might to save her from hardships and to give her all the comforts and as many of the luxuries of life as he may be able to secure.

Love is another word for sacrifice. Love means self denial.

The husband who loves his wife will be not only affectionate, but helpful. Love is unselfish. It does not take, but gives.

There are plenty of husbands who are short on words. In speech they are naturally undemonstrative. They are not given to expression. But they are genuinely in love with their wives.

In fact, most men are built that way. Romantic love discourses are well enough in their way, but unless backed up by actual effort and real unselfishness they are "as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal."

A man may be as reticent of love speeches as Miles Standish, but constant in devotion to the day of his death.

DOLL WORKBAG.

Données in 1830 style. At the top of the skirt is the usual drawing, which is run through the top of the doll's head and forms a sliding scene in which the bag is opened or closed.

A New Laundry Bag.

Here is a laundry bag that cannot elusively conceal in its depths any small article. This new bag is very simple in construction. It is a square of a yard or more of any material that is strong enough for the purpose. Bright cretonne is very good. This square is hemmed and each corner turned back half an inch. On each of the-blunted corners thus made is sewed a loop of tape four inches long. Smaller bags can be made in the same way.

Silk Flower Vase.

Vases covered with brocaded silk are the newest things out for holding flowers, and the idea is to have three of these holders arranged together. These vases are constructed from testing tubes that are used for chemical experiments, and in the present instance the large ones about twelve inches high are pressed into service. About the three tubes is pasted handsome brocaded silk, or plain fabric may be used, studded with sequins and embroidered with tiny designs in ribbon flowers. The fabric is applied with photographic paper pasted and finished top and bottom with dull gold braid. The illustration shows how the tubes are arranged. A gold cord is put around them in such a way as to make a good balance, and an extra quantity is reserved for hanging the vases.

The Doll Blotter.

Reminiscent of days long ago is a little "indy" fashioned from cardboard whose prosaic mission is to serve as a blotter. The face and figure are painted in water colors, the painter-like drapery being made of purple blotting paper fastened with tiny brass headed tacks. This decorative desk adjunct costs $1.50.

The Terrible Itching, Burning, Disfigurement, Humiliation of ECZEMA

BANISHED OR NO PAY.
Baby Cured With one Set of Remedy.

May 9, 1908.
Gentlemen:—I take pleasure in informing you that by the use of about one-third of a set of your remedies, we have entirely cured our youngest daughter, aged ten months, of a bad case of Eczema. The baby was affected for over two months and we could get nothing to relieve her until one day I happened to pick up one of your booklets in Matthew's Drug store and decided to give it a trial, by following the directions faithfully we had the great satisfaction of seeing our little one entirely cured in less than three weeks. Yours truly,

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

ARE you a snob?

I do not think there is any falling which everyone pretends to hate so much and which at the same time is so near universal as snobbishness.

I fully believe that at least ninety-nine of every one hundred people have at least a few drops of snobbish blood in their veins.

Of course almost everyone who reads this is either going to quarrel with that proportion or else elect himself by a vote of one to the position of the one out of the one hundred.

But before YOU—that is the particular individual who is reading those words at just this moment—do either of those things let me ask you a few questions.

I am going to take it for granted that you have some friends who are wealthier and more "in the swim" than you—most of us do.

I am also going to take it for granted that you also have some friend who is very much poorer than you—most of us do.

Well, suppose some day that this poor friend, in a ratty hat and ill-fitting skirt and scanty coat of the style of five years ago, chances to meet you and walk down the street with you. And suppose you meet your wealthy friend.

Are you ABSOLUTELY SURE that you won't feel the least weebit disturbed to have them see you with the dilapidated person? Are you sure that next time you see them you will not casually explain that she is an unfortunate woman, who in her better days—necessity on the better days—used to live on the next street to you?

Then, again, maybe you are driving or motoring down the avenue with these same desirable friends and you pass some business associate or college mate of yours. Are you ABSOLUTELY SURE that as you bow to him you won't feel a little thrill of pride or pleasure to have them see you in such good company?

And if you say "NO" to any of these questions or to any others which you can probably put to yourself, do you not thereby convict yourself of some measure of snobbishness?

Myself, I hate snobbishness with all my heart and yet I am continually convicting myself of feeling it not showing it.

We are apt to think of this falling as connected with wealth. But it isn't necessarily. Rich people are no more apt to be snobbish than poor people—maybe because they are more sure of their position and therefore do not need to be continually trying to impress it upon others.

In a sermon on "American Snobs" the Rev. Herbert Johnson, a well-known preacher and social worker, recently said:

"American snobs are not limited to that class who seek French counts for their titles. They exist just as much in the tenement houses. The family on the first floor doesn't care to know the family on the third floor, those on the third floor don't wish to have much to do with those on the sixth floor, while those on the sixth floor don't know anything about those on the tenth."

And of course that indictment is just as true of the middle class of the poorer class. We all complain of the wealthy man who looks down upon us, and yet most of us acknowledge his right to do so by feeling an instinctive superiority to those who are poorer than we.

What are we going to do about such a state of affairs?

I don't know.

But I hope that we are going to be thoroughly and healthily ashamed of ourselves every time we realize that we have felt or shown an attitude that is shown by anyone else towards ourselves, we could call snobbishness.

SOME QUANT AND NOVEL IDEAS FOR CHRISTMAS DINNER

By MARGARET DRYDEN.

There are women who can neither embroider nor paint, nor do any of the many kinds of fancy work. They have never been interested in such things, but they are good cooks and fine housekeepers. When Christmas comes they spend more time than they feel that they can afford on the many trinkets the shops show so temptingly, and sigh for an opportunity to really do something for the dear friends. Why not make use of the talent for cooking? Make the plum puddings that are so delicious, boil them in dainty blue and white enamel bowls and send them up with holly and gay ribbons with a merry Christmas greeting. Be sure that no gift will be more welcome.

Plum Pudding.
This will keep for several months and grow better all the time. Make at once and place in a cool place till Christmas time. Two pounds of raisins seeded and chopped; two pounds of currants picked over, washed and dried. One pound of butter, one pound of sugar and one pound of beef suet rubbed to a powder; two and a half pounds of flour, one-half cup shredded citron, one teaspoon each of cloves, mace and cinnamon and grated nutmeg, one cup of brandy, two cups of milk and twelve eggs, yolks and whites beaten separately. Cream the sugar and butter, add the beaten yolks, the milk and flour and spices and lastly, the well-beaten whites. Drain the fruit well with flour and stir in until thoroughly mixed. Have the pudding bowls well greased and poured, pour in puddings, leaving room to swell, tie up in a floured cloth and plunge into boiling water, which must be kept at a steady boil for five hours. When the cooking is finished take from the fire, plunge into cold water for a moment and turn out on a platter until cold. Wash the basin and return the pudding to it, tie up in a clean, dry cloth and set away to ripen. Send your favorite recipe for both hard and liquid sauce with your note. The brandy will not be noticeable and will have no evil effects. It is merely to serve as a preservative.

Fruit Cakes.
It is not necessary to give a recipe for fruit cake, as almost everyone has a favorite one in their own book, but the suggestion is made that a lot of fine, rich fruit cake is a gift that will cause few to grumble, while a quart jar of the kind of mince meat "like grandma used to make" will be a joy surprise to any young housekeeper for dinner and feels that there will be little Christmas cheer if the dinner does not go right.

A Novel Recipe Book.

Procure a number of large square white envelopes, and either buy thin cards to fit them or have some cut. On the outside of the envelope paste a picture of the kind of recipes that you intend that envelope to contain.

It ain't no Qulp uv Eddie Foy, but don't ye think it's a Gem? I hain't never had no morals, boots, but dis is me Christmas Song. Set 'er down To-day in yer Mommy Book, Gilt up Every Mornin' an' huy a Look, and Yer never can go Round Wrong.

ROBS SAFE; EMULATES SHOOTER
Attorney and Mining Man Caught in Bold Daylight Robbery.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 20.—Emulating his brilliant brother, Lamar Harris, whose suicide in Highland Park, Ill., after robbing a bank several months ago, caused a national sensation, Leslie Harris, attorney and mining man, was caught in the act of robbing the safe of the MacFarland Shirt Company in broad daylight.

He managed to get away and fled to the Johnson building on Broadway, where it is alleged he hid several thousand dollars of the loot. He was captured as he stepped from the elevator preparatory to leaving the building. With the exception of a package containing $200 all the money was recovered from the Johnson building. He had thrown it into spittoons in the hallways and over transoms.

Leslie Harris is almost as brilliant a young man as was his brother Lamar. He had an office in San Francisco for a time as a mining man. He is six feet four inches in height, built like a Hercules, has golden red hair and is a great favorite with women.

Founded Bryn Mawr College.
Bryn Mawr college was founded by Joseph W. Taylor, who began the erection of the college buildings in 1879. He died in 1886 and left an endowment of $800,000 for the continuance of the work he had begun—a college for women.

Two Kinds of Men.
It's a wise man who knows how to be rich and not give offense. He's a patient citizen who can be poor and not grumble.—Manchester Union.

CREW WINS BATTLE AGAINST FIRE AND COLD.

Take to Yawl for Refuge But Nearly Perish in Frigid Weather.

Loraine, O., Dec. 20.—After a fierce battle with ice floes in the bitter cold, which almost cost them their lives, the three members of the crew of the fishing tug Panopaea of Cleveland, succeeded in escaping from the flames when that vessel burned four miles off shore.

The boat, which belongs to A. H. Langell of Cleveland, was bound for its winter quarters at St. Clair, Mich. Capt. Charles Inches discovered fire in the woodwork above the engine room and in a few moments his position and that of the engineer and fireman became perilous.

While they were endeavoring to cast loose the larger of two yawls they carried, the yawl caught fire. They were forced to take refuge in the other, the smaller one, where there was barely room for the three to crawl in.

The sides of the tug were in flames before they launched their little craft. There had been no time to don extra wraps and the day was one of the coldest of the winter.

The men, their ears and their beards were crusted with ice before they had gone a mile.

Two miles off shore they encountered shore ice too thin to bear their weight, but thick enough to impede the progress of the boat. Through this they were compelled to break their way, stiffened by the penetrating wind, endangered every moment by the shifting ice.

When they reached shore, five miles west of here, they collapsed.

All were brought into Loraine where they were given medical attention.

The advertisements will suggest what to give as gifts.

BIBLE STUDENT GREATLY BLESSED

SPLENDID ADDRESS GIVEN AT BAPTIST CHURCH LAST EVENING.

W. E. HENDERSON SPOKE

National Secretary of Gideon's Band Told of Delights That Come to Man Who Searches Scriptures.

W. E. Henderson of Chicago, national secretary of the Traveling Men's Gideon Band, who spoke yesterday afternoon at the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. building, delivered the address at the service at the Baptist church last evening. John H.
Stanger of this city, one of the founders of the organization, occupied a seat on the platform with Mr. Henderson and Rev. Hazen, and gave a prayer.

Mr. Henderson's talk was practical and interesting, dealing with experiences of his own and others in the Christian work. His address was interpreted with many quotations from Holy Writ and he also recited a beautiful poem descriptive of the blessings to be found in the Bible. His text was the thirty-fifth chapter of the book of Isaiah on the "Messiah of the Gospel." "The wilderness and the solitary places shall be glad for thee, and the desert shall rejoice and blow as in the wind, and the ransom of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs, and everlasting joy upon their heads; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away."

In speaking his speech, Mr. Henderson spoke of a recent visit to Birmingham, Ala., to attend a meeting
there of the United Commercial Travelers of Alabama. While there he and Mr. Nicholson, who had requested him to come there, attended a banquet given by the U. C. T. This banquet at which one hundred traveling men—men trained to persuade people to buy the various goods which they had to offer—met with but one purpose—to bring about temperance in Alabama.
"The whole meeting," said he, "had Christ in it and the speeches showed a strong sentiment in favor of temperance."

"This chapter signifies more than any other to me as to what is to come when you get all of the traveling men in this country lined up for Christ, and persuading for him as they do in selling their goods. In laboring as Gypsy Smith was doing. You know Gypsy Smith was a traveling man before he became an evangelist, traveling from village to village selling the clothes and shoes which his father made.
That persuasion which he used in selling the clothes and shoes is now devoting to the saving of souls and he had some great services in Chicago."

"I believe the time will come when all traveling men will be for Christ and then will be the time for God to come. The reason that we are striving to get the traveling men to come to Jesus Christ is that they may use their training to lead others to him.
"A company gathered one day, was discussing as to who were their friends. A Swede gave as his definition of a friend, 'I follow the law of all about you and still like you,' and the others had expressed their opinion as to what they considered a friend.
The last one to speak was an old man who said: 'The best friend I know of is Jesus, for greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his friend.'"

"As the sculptor shapes the beautiful statue from the rough stone block, as the mechanic turns the tool from the bar of steel, and the weaver the garment from the coarse woolen yarn, so a Gideon, a Christian, a Y.
M. C. A. worker or a Sunday school worker can take a worthless human soul and by bringing it into contact with Jesus and make something beautiful of it."

The gift of the beautiful poem which Mr. Henderson recited was that it was the way to Heaven. It contains the mind of God and blessed is the man who reads it and believes in it. It fits all phases of human life and contains all precepts for living. In it are paradise restored, heaven brought to light, and hell disclosed.
We should read it; it should fill our minds and act as a guide to our feet.
"The Bible is simple to our feet, but how few of us know what it is. It is the book of the 'bread of life,' it is Christ himself, and the man who has this in him has Christ dwelling in him. In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. The Word is simple enough for any child to hide in his heart."

"If we study the Word there is no question of importance that cannot be answered by some passage in Holy Writ. How can anyone keep the commandments who does not know them?
How can you enjoy this book unless you know what is in it. The Bible promises many things and these things you may have."

CHRISTMAS PACKAGES;
SUGGESTIONS GIVEN

Persons Sending Gifts by Express Might Read the Following to Their Advantage.

1st. Ship your package early. The express company will give you a small label to paste on the package reading "Do not open until Christmas."
This will give opportunity for the package to reach its destination before Christmas and give the additional pleasure to the recipient of the gift of having it on Christmas morning.

2nd. Use wooden boxes for packing, especially for glass and other fragile articles, which should be well protected. It may cost a few cents more, but the danger of damage will be very much reduced, and you should do your part to make the transportation of your gift safe.

3rd. Write the address in full—state, county, city, street and number—on the box or package, with ink or crayon. Tags are frequently torn off and lost.

4th. If you want to prepare the charges, write the word "Paid" in large, plain letters on the package.

5th. Insist upon a receipt and see that the amount paid and the value is marked on the receipt and on the package.

6th. Write your own address in full somewhere on the package, following the prefix, "From."

7th. Enclose a card in each box or package reading:

(Your address.)

(Consignee's address.)

This in order that, should the outer packings be destroyed the inner packing will insure prompt forwarding and delivery.

8th. If not convenient to ship in wooden boxes, use strong wrapping paper (not newspapers) and tie with string cord.

9th. If package contains anything of perishable nature, write the word "perishable" in large plain letters on the box or package, which will call for special attention and delivery.

If you will observe these suggestions, you will greatly assist in the prompt delivery of your gift in good condition.

MONROE CARDINALS
WON FROM FREEPORT

Green County Basketball Team
Proved Too Speedy for Y. M. C.
A. Squad by 44 to 23.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Monroe, Wis., Dec. 20.—The Cardinals won another victory in the game played with the Y. M. C. A. of Freeport, defeating their opponents by a score of 44 to 23. The game did not begin until nearly 11 o'clock, owing to the extreme lateness of the Illinois Central train which had the Freeport team on board, and which reached the limit of the seating capacity, felt rapid for the long wait when the game closed at midnight with a victory for the Cardinals. The teams were evenly matched in strength and the game was played so hard and fast that it had the appearance of being somewhat rough, due to the efforts put through by both teams to carry off honors. Monroe excelled in team work, showing great speed and great ability for making baskets. The Freeport team was frequently fouled, mostly for pushing opponents. Goodard of Freeport refused the game. The preliminary game played between the Junior and Senior teams of the high school was won by the latter by a score of 24 to 9. The first half ended with a tie of 7 to 7.

structor, held a recital at the home of attention from start to finish. Lillian olin and Robert Wegg on mandolin assisted in the evening's program.

Rural Carriers Delayed
Rural mail carriers out of Monroe are finding it impossible to cover their routes on account of the drifted roads.
Not one of them was able to get through yesterday. Some got five miles and had to turn back, while others could not get out a mile. Many of the carriers have had to travel over almost impassable roads since winter started and have been making every mile they could. Reasonably be expected to travel. However, they are not required to make their trips. If the farmers are not interested enough in their mail to keep the roads open.

OLEO PLANT FOUND
IN BASEMENT ROOM

Milwaukee Was Headquarters of the Gang Graham Belonged to—U.
S. Marshal Discovers Location of Factory.

Through the efforts of United States Marshal H. A. Well of Milwaukee, the plant used by Edward Kilms and A.
B. Graham, who was arrested here, in the oleomargarine frauds, the discovery of which heretofore has baffled the United States officers, has been found and probably will be the most conclusive evidence in establishing the guilt of Kilms and Graham.

The plant, said to have been used by the alleged conspirators to color white oleomargarine, was found in the basement of a Milwaukee rooming house and several people testified Saturday morning that the plant was operated by Kilms and Graham, whose pictures they identified.

They also testified that the two men had made efforts to destroy the plant when A. B. Graham was arrested here two months ago.

After the hearing given J. H. Davis and Edward Kilms before Court Commissioner John P. Harper, in Milwaukee, evidence was insufficient to hold Davis, and he was released, but Kilms was held to the grand jury. Saturday morning a surety company offered to furnish a $1,000 bond, immediately after his release he was re-arrested on new charges which were made possible by the discovery of the plant by Marshal Well and his assistants, and he now is in the county jail.

A. B. Graham is said to have conducted operations in Milwaukee under the name of E. Fitzhugh. A photograph has been identified by many Milwaukeeans, Manitowish, Oshkosh, and Green Bay dealers as that of the man who sold them oleomargarine for butter, and he now is being held in Madison on several indictments in the same case.

The two men now are under arrest for violating several sections of the act of Aug. 2, 1886, charged with manufacturing colored oleomargarine, failure to file a $5,000 bond, as required by the act, with the collector of the district; for failure to make returns and to properly stamp their product.

United States Marshal Well of the eastern Wisconsin district, says he has evidence to show that during their operations, which, it is said, covered a period of twenty days before they were intercepted, the two men had sold 4,000 pounds of oleomargarine as butter.

CHRISTMAS REUNION

HOW TO MAKE THE HOLIDAY PARTIES MOST ENJOYABLE.

A Number of Games That Will Prove Pleasing for Both Old and Young, at the Yuletide Season.

By Mary Dawson.

The wealth of new games is so great of late years that the entertainer is apt to overlook the splendid old games, many of which have never been surpassed, if, indeed, we can equal them. Old favorites are especially good for Christmas reunion gatherings because in most cases they require no advance preparation and are easily grasped by the few to whom they are unfamiliar.

One such sport is that called "acting adjectives." To play it one member of the company leaves the room, and each person remaining agrees upon a certain adjective, which he or she will act out when called on to do so. When the retiring player is recalled he asks someone in the group a question. This player must then answer in a way which will illustrate the adjective assigned to him. Thus, a player who has taken the word "noble" will bow his reply, and at the same time contrive to let a book fall to the floor with a loud clasp.

The man or girl representing "taciturn" must reply in as few words as possible, and so forth. As soon as the guesser has divined one of the concealed words he takes a chair in the circle, while the person whose adjective he guessed withdraws from the room.

"Magic music" makes a lively number in the program, played in this way. One person is chosen to hide the coin or ring. All the rest withdraw, with the exception of the person who will play the piano. The person holding the ring then hides it, acquainting the musician with its whereabouts, and the company is readmitted.

The players now arrange themselves in a row, each one with his hands on the shoulders of the person in front of him. One player, the leader, heading the procession. When the music starts the line of boys and girls goes off in search of the ring, guided in this by the music. This, of course, plays loud and cheerily as the object is approached, slow and dolefully when the procession is headed in the wrong direction, and faintest when they are furthest from the prize.

"Thought transference" is not precisely a game of contest, but there are few better ways to interest a party of guests, and whatever the psychological explanation of the phenomenon, it never fails to create amusement. To arrange it the person to be "subject" is sent out of the room. Two players are appointed to transfer the thought, and these decide upon what simple stunt the player will be required to perform. Thus, he may be required to pick up a book, to arrange a cushion, or to touch the keys of the piano. The rest of the company is informed what the required stunt will be.

The "subject" is then readmitted, and those who are to guide him stand on each side and hold his hands. These thought transferers, as well as the rest of the company, then center their minds upon the thing to be done. In eight cases out of ten the "subject" then wondrously way, still holding the hands of the other two, towards the appointed object, and does what is required of him.

It is most exciting. The audience will probably demand several "subjects" and experiments before their curiosity is satiated.

A new game which will appeal to active, lively girls, as well as to the boys, is color dance. This is a splendid frolic for the hall or living room, and can be played in quite close quarters.

Each member of the company but one is given a certain color or shade, which will represent his personal safety, since, when standing with a foot or hand on something of that color he cannot be tagged. The remaining player is made "catch" and pursues the fugitives around the room. He must remember the colors given to each, as the pursued, when in a tight fix, will try to deceive him by touching some color not theirs.

When the catch succeeds in catching some one off base and tagging him he changes places with the person caught. It adds to the fun to give the catch a long, flexible stick with a handle of raw cotton dipped in flour tied to one end, with which to tag.

Now for a sit-down game while legs and arms are resting and players take breath. A good one is a contest seeing who can write down the longest list of words suggesting or belonging to the Yuletide season. Pass around blank cards and pencils and allow 15 minutes for working up the lists. Such a list will include the words, holly, mistletoe, St. Nick, Christmas carol, wattle, yule, yule log, gift, greeting, Christmas box, snapdragon, holidays and a long list of related terms. Give a prize to the player whose list proves longest.

To carry the fun a bit further on, get two pictures as large as possible, representing the Christmas saint. "Ade," or illustrations from back numbers of periodicals will do. Cut each picture into six or eight pieces and hide the pieces in odd nooks and corners around the room. When the signal is given players hurry away in search of the fragments. As soon as a player has found a piece he ceases to search, and all those who have found morsels commence to patch them together. All those who find fragments are entitled to draw for the prize—a Christmas book. This makes a most exciting scramble game, since it is not until both pictures are completed that the unsuccessful players give up hope.

When the company does not include children too young to read or write, composing a Christmas story makes a pleasant pastime. The players are given penny blank books and pencils and each is called on to name a word which must be woven into the story each writes. These words everybody puts down. Twenty minutes is allowed in which to think out Christmas stories or incidents and for putting them into words. At the end of the contest the stories are read aloud and voted on. The best is awarded a prize. If any story fails to include all the given words it is not entered in the competition.

The best place to play this game is around a large table which affords room for the different papers, pencils and erasers.

Have for the centerpiece of the supper table at this Christmas party a large cake bed in white, with wreath or artificial holly and a crown of red candles. In the center have a tiny Santa Claus, with or without reindeer, and a sleigh.

From the cake run scarlet ribbons, terminating in souvenires at the different covers. Serve for the refreshment hot oyster soup and crackers, cold sliced tongue and potato or chicken salad, followed by tea cream and cake or a dainty jelly or custard. Then coffee, wafers and cheese.

Wrap tiny bonbons in squares of tinfoil and pour a little alcohol over them on a metal tray. Let the guests snatch them from the flames with their fingers.

FOLDING STAND FOR TREE

One That Can Be Easily Made and Which May Be Kept for Future Use.

The accompanying cut shows a simple way to make a support for a Christmas tree, says the Scientific American. The material should be of hard or tough wood that will not split easily.

Make three pieces like A, of 7/8x2-inch strip, also three pieces like C, of Folding Tree Stand.

7/8x2-inch strip, and one piece like B; for this the bottom of a peach basket will do very well. In the center of the disk B bore a 3/4-inch hole to receive the sharpened base of the tree. Fasten the C pieces to the under side of the disk B with screws. Bore holes in the arms of each C piece to just receive a three-inch wire nail. In the top of each leg, A, as shown, insert a small nail or screw to form a point that will press into the tree. Now place a leg, A, in the slot sawed out of C, and pass a three-inch wire nail through the holes.

When the Christmas tree is taken down the legs may be unbanded and the stand folded and packed away for use next year.

PRETTY NECKPIECE OF LACE

Girls are busy these days making elaborate neckpieces of lace and satin, or net and ribbon. The one shown in the sketch is made from white figured flax net attached to a high, boned stock of black satin. The bow in front, and the jabot, are merely pinned on and can be replaced by others.

Christmas Decoration.

A simple Christmas decoration for the dining room is to hang the chandelier with greens and holly and from that carry loosely long ropes of ground pine to each corner of the room, thus making a canopy for the table. A bit of mistletoe skillfully introduced where all will have to pass under it in leaving the room may add to the fun. In the center of the table lay a tray, and on this a glass or copper bowl of holly, frosted as though it had just come from the wintry field. For the favors to be laid down by the place cards there are tiny earthen pots with miniature decorated Christmas trees.

The Draggart Sized Up.

JOHNNY'S CHRISTMAS

By SARAH BRYCE BOWEN.

(Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.)

On Christmas morning while Jimmy was trying hard to dress himself—the buttons were all too big for the holes, he said—he heard a sharp bark downstairs. Jimmy stopped at once, and his eyes and ears were wide open. At another bark, half dressed, he dashed out of his room and downstairs. There in the library he saw as pretty a little fox terrier as ever stepped on four feet. Jimmy stood looking at the terrier, and the terrier stood with his pointed nose and sharp eyes turned directly on Jimmy. Then by way of making Jimmy's acquaintance he wagged his tail. At that moment Jimmy's father came into the room and said:

"He's your Christmas present, Jim. How do you like him?"

Jim was so wrapped in admiration of his dog that he made no reply. Finally he gasped:

"Is he really all mine, papa?"

"All yours, sonny. I intended to give him to you at breakfast, but his bark stood in the way. Come; we three will go up and finish your dressing. I suppose I'll have to help you now that your attention is diverted from your clothes. Come on, Zip."

"Is that his name?"

"That's a good one for him, don't you think so? He looks as if his name might be Zip."

And Zip the terrier continued to be called. There is as much affinity between children and dogs as there is unity between dogs and cats. From the moment Jimmy saw Zip he loved him, and from the moment Zip saw Jimmy he adored him. Jimmy began to go to kindergarten that year, and from the time he departed Zip did nothing but wait for his return. Indeed, he would have gone with his little master had the door not been shut on him when Jimmy went out. But as soon as Jimmy came home Zip resembled a rubber ball on the board. He jumped all over the boy, his expression plainly denoting his joy. Then when times Zip and Jim would have together. They would romp till Jim was too tired to romp any longer. Then Jim would get out his toys, and Zip would sit by watching him, turning his little head at Jim's every motion.

Jimmy's parents objected to the two friends passing the night as well as the day together, and this was a great hardship for both the dog and the boy. Many a time, notwithstanding great precaution, the family would awaken in the morning to find Zip and Jim in bed together. Jimmy's mother threatened to send his pet away if he did it again.

One morning Zip waited as he was always directed to wait for his chum to come down to breakfast. Jimmy did not come. Zip noticed that the father and mother looked anxious, and the dog was himself correspondingly worried. He ran this way and that way, butting his nose against a door that confined him, and when a maid opened it without thinking Zip sprang through and ran upstairs into Jim's room. There lay Jim in bed looking red and hot. His mother was bending over him anxiously. Zip sprang up on to the bed. The mother ordered him off, but one look from Jim changed her intention, and she permitted Zip to remain.

But Zip had to go when the doctor came and was kept out of the room for the rest of the day. In the morning Jim was a little better, and his Christmas dog was let into his room and up on to his bed, where he licked the boy's hand, looking at him with melancholy eyes, as though his heart would break. But he was not permitted to remain long. Jimmy was too ill. Indeed, there were times when he probably did not know that his pet was with him. Zip was put outside, but remained at the door, looking up wistfully as people went in and out, as if for a bit of comfort as to his friend's condition.

Jimmy grew worse, and it seemed that he would pass away shortly before the dying year. The day before Christmas after the doctor's morning call Zip saw Jimmy's mother in tears. She had been told that the crisis would take place during the next twenty-four hours. Zip could not be driven from the door all day. In the evening he saw by the expression on the faces of those nursing Jimmy that something important was taking place.

It was 7 o'clock. The dinner table was set below in the dining room. On the sideboard was a dish of fruit, including some Malaga grapes. But no one seemed inclined to eat, and the room was deserted. The door of Jimmy's bedroom opened, and a trained nurse came out. A few minutes later Zip hopped up on the sick boy's bed with a bunch of grapes in his mouth. Jimmy's mother was about to take Zip in her arms and set him outside when her boy opened his eyes. Seeing Zip and the grapes, he put out his hand, trying to break off a grape, but was too feeble.

Then Jimmy's mother plucked a grape and held it to her boy's lips. He swallowed it and with his eyes asked for more. Grape after grape was eaten by the patient till the last one on the bunch was gone. Then the boy slept, with Zip in his arms.

At 10 o'clock the nurse took Jimmy's temperature and discovered that it was nearly normal. At 11 the doctor came and was astonished at the change in the boy's condition. In the morning Jimmy ate a good breakfast and, hearing the word "Christmas" spoken, asked for his presents.

That was a happy day for all, especially Zip, who had turned the scale.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, December 20, 1869.—Accident to Mrs. Vander.—Mrs. Vander was quite severely injured while proceeding down East Milwaukee street. When nearly opposite the German church, the sled of a boy who was coasting on the sidewalk, struck her and threw her violently to the ground, bruising her seriously, but it is thought no bones were broken. We understand there is an ordinance against sliding on the sidewalk, and as it is so immediately dangerous to life and limb the practice should be stopped.

The Farewell Sermon of Mr. Bradford.—Rev. Mr. Bradford, late pastor of the Presbyterian church in this city, preached his farewell discourse to that people yesterday. His sermon was in two parts, the first of which was devoted to a brief review of his ministerial labors here, and the second to advice to the church and society which he was about leaving. His discourse was in good taste and was listened to with marked interest. We are not advised of the future movements of the Rev. gentleman, but wherever he goes he will be followed by the best wishes of a large number of friends.

The Optimist's Corner. Daily Helps to Health and Happiness. BY GEORGE F. BUTLER, A. M., M. D.

If ordinary chambers are but equal to 12 feet square, and that is barely enough for one sleeper, and it is the common custom for two at least to occupy such a room, we have the general fact of a world of people voluntarily allotting to themselves just one-half of the requisite amount of air during every night of their existence by which their blood is just half purified, their systems just half washed out, just half renovated! No wonder then that there is that earnest craving for sleep in the morning on the part of the frail and feeble. Then, again, there are found in most chambers, hung-up clothing, closets, wardrobes, drawers, and the like, with the carpeting or rugs, all of which are sources of dust and lint, and dampness and close air, so that, taking everything into consideration, it is an almost unknown thing that any sleeper within the four walls of any private house or hotel, gets one single breath of real pure air in a whole night. The insensible perspiration from a sleeper during the night, is of itself enough to taint the atmosphere of a whole room. Night is the time of attack of the great majority of violent human ailments. Open your windows; keep them open; pure air is health; impure air breeds disease.

THIRTY-ONE HURT IN A BAD WRECK

BROKEN RAIL THROWS BURLINGTON LIMITED OFF TRACK.

TEARS UP 200 FEET OF TRACK

1. C. Passenger Run Into Freight, Several Are Hurt—Rock Island "Golden State" Is Derailed—Two Killed, Many Injured.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—The Oriental Limited train on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy was overturned by a broken rail at Western Springs, Ill., and 31 persons were injured. Two women were seriously hurt, while the others received painful bruises and lacerations.

The Burlington in its official statement regarding the wreck claimed only 10 passengers had been injured.

Broken Rail Causes Wreck.
The wreck was caused by a rail which broke on the fourth car of the train was passing. The three rear cars, all sleepers, were derailed and overturned in a ditch after dragging along the roadbed on their sides for yards. The first three cars and the locomotive left the track, but did not overturn, and plowed along, tearing up the track for 200 feet.

The train consisted of an engine, a baggage car, two chair cars, and three sleepers. It was over seven hours late and was running at great speed when the wreck occurred.

The three Pullman sleepers, most of them filled with passengers coming out to spend Christmas with friends, slid down an embankment for 15 feet, and that none was killed is declared by railroad men to be one of the miracles in the history of railroad accidents.

Planned Beneath Wreckage.

The passengers were buried in the wreckage of the partly demolished coaches, many of them being planned down, where they were obliged to wait until released by fellow passengers and citizens of Western Springs, who were summoned by the whistles of the engine.

Contrary to the usual record of railroad accidents, the passengers in the chair cars were not injured, beyond a shanking up. The broken rail, to which the accident was due, was buried into a whiplash mass when the cars came to a stop.

1. C. Trains Collide.

Several persons were injured, some seriously, in a wreck of a Chicago-bound Illinois Central passenger train and a freight on the freight division of the road. The passenger train ran into an open switch, just west of Hawthorne station, where the freight train was waiting for it to pass.

Among the injured are:

Callahan, Dubuque, Ia.

Dodds, Dubuque, Ia.

Frank Knight, Dubuque, Ia.

Charles Kelger, engineer.

Miss Katherine Smith, Dubuque, Ia.

The engine of the passenger train was smashed to pieces, the baggage car and several coaches were thrown from the track and greatly damaged.

The last car in the passenger train, a Pullman, was the only one that kept the track. Several of the freight cars were thrown from the track and demolished.

"Golden State" Wrecked.

Tucson, Ariz., Dec. 20.—Engineer Tom Walker and Fireman P. W. Bauer, both of Tucson, were killed, ten persons were seriously injured and 13 others cut and bruised when the east bound Golden State Limited, a Rock Island Pacific train running over the Southern Pacific tracks west of El Paso, was wrecked three miles west of Benson.

The most seriously injured were brought to St. Mary's hospital at Tucson.

The train was running 30 miles an hour. Southern Pacific officials say the train struck a curve at too high speed.

The injured were nearly all in the tourist sleepers and in the mail car.

Two Killed at Blakely, Minn.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 20.—West bound passenger train No. 3 on the Minnesota and Iowa division of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad collided with a freight train at Blakely, Minn., about noon.

Fireman Joe Zinnell and Mail Clerk F. Torgerson, both of St. Paul, were killed. None of the passengers were injured seriously.

Five Killed in Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 20.—Five persons were killed, two fatally injured and a dozen or more passengers slightly hurt in the wreck of Lake Shore train No. 1. The passenger crashed into a switch engine on a cross-over at Twenty-sixth street.

The collision occurred within sight of the Union station. Snow was falling. It is believed that the red light, which railroad men say was displayed to warn the engineer of the passenger train, was obscured by the storm.

Coffee Imports $84,000,000.

Washington, Dec. 20.—Every American who takes his cup of coffee might like to know that in the ten months of this year he has helped use up just $84,000,000 worth, 84,000,000 pounds, and that eight-ninths of it came from South America. And of all that Brazil furnished more than 600,000,000 pounds of the delicious beans.

Two Children Burn.

Mainfield, Wis., Dec. 20.—The farm house of Ed. Rozell was destroyed by fire while Rozell and his wife were in town. Two of their children, Ruth, aged 14, and her sister, aged five years, perished in the fire.

Church Built of Paper.

Bergen, in Norway, boasts a paper church capable of seating 1,000 persons.

TWO AGED SISTERS ARE FOUND DEAD IN MYSTERY

Police Think That One Murdered the Other and Then Committed Suicide.

Newark, N. J., Dec. 20.—The bodies of Misses Frances and Isabel Ritchie, sisters and elderly spinsters, were found by the police in the kitchen of their home, and all evidence points to a murder and suicide, although there is a possibility of a suicide pact. The women had been dead a week when discovered.

The women were found a few feet from each other. The elder, Frances, lay at full length on the floor, her head on a pillow. Around her neck was the mark of a rope. Sunk several inches through her breast into her heart was a hatchet.

Isabel, the younger sister, was found in a half reclining position suspended by a section of clothing fastened into a groove around her neck, with the other end fastened to the knob of the door leading from the kitchen to the dining room. On her breast there were several stab wounds that appeared to have been made by a pin similar to that found imbedded in her sister's body.

A message written by Isabel after her sister died was found. This message was in lead pencil on the corner of a small white box and read:

"Frances hung herself 2:12 Sat. Mo. too."

The murder and suicide theory is based on the assumption that Isabel, the younger and stronger woman, in a period of insanity, killed Frances and then took her own life.

IMPORTS INCREASE $27,997,435.

Revenue Much Larger Since Passage of Payne Tariff Bill.

Washington, Dec. 20.—Imports into the United States have increased and the revenue of the customs department is larger since the Payne tariff law went into effect, according to the treasurer's report of December 10. The customs receipts since the beginning of the fiscal year, July 1, 1908, total $155,034,798.88, as compared with $127,037,363.24, taken in up to the corresponding date in 1908. This is an increase of $27,997,435.64.

The imports since January 1, 1909, are the largest on record. The explanation given in the early portion of the year was that heavy purchases of foreign goods were being rushed into the country in anticipation of the taking effect of the new tariff. But the imports continued at record figures and some other explanation is necessary.

Two causes are apparent; the heavy consumption of foreign raw materials by the factories of the country, now mostly operating at capacity, and the ability and desire of the American people to purchase larger amounts of commodities manufactured abroad.

COOK IS LOOKED FOR IN ITALY.

Steamship Captain Says Explorer Was Detained.

Naples, Dec. 20.—The rumor spread here that Dr. Frederik A. Cook, the explorer, was aboard the steamer Saxonia, and a large number of people rushed to the dock to greet him. The captain of the Saxonia said that he had been notified that Dr. Cook intended to cross on his steamer, but was detained and asked the company to transfer his ticket to the Carmania.

New York, Dec. 20.—Intimate friends of Dr. Cook, who are on pins and needles as to where, pending the decision on his data at Copenhagen, said that in their belief Dr. Cook is at the home of a friend in Christiansand, Norway, within easy call of Copenhagen. It is thought that Dr. Cook left this country on the steamship United States, which sailed on Thanksgiving day.

Copenhagen, Dec. 20.—The general belief is held here that the commission having charge of the investigation of Dr. Frederik A. Cook's polar records will report that Dr. Cook's papers do not provide a basis for any well-founded scientific judgment.

REBUKED BY HUSBAND, SUICIDES.

Woman Drinks Carbolic Acid When Spouse Chides Her.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 20.—Mrs. David Wolsberg, wife of the manager of the cigar department of a drug company here, committed suicide in her apartment by drinking carbolic acid after her husband had rebuked her for receiving a man friend in his absence.

Mrs. Wolsberg did not drink the acid until her husband had left the apartment. He took a train for New York city as he had previously arranged and does not know of the suicide of his wife.

Wissahickon Crew Is Rescued.

Bault St. Marie, Mich., Dec. 20.—Thirty-two sailors, the crew of the Anchor line steamship Wissahickon, driven ashore a week ago at Outer Duck Island in Lake Huron, arrived here on the tug General. Capt. Miller of the Wissahickon reports the steamship resting on bowlders, with one compartment of her hold filled with water to prevent her pounding. He says the steamship is slightly damaged and the ship and her cargo are said to be valued at $400,000.

Cardinal Batelli Near Death.

LIFE SAVERS RESCUE

8,970 LIVES IN YEAR

Marine Disasters Numbered 1,370—

Property Loss $13,216,816—

Persons Lost 30.

Washington, Dec. 20.—Aside from saving hundreds of lives and millions of dollars' worth of property involved in marine disasters, the United States life saving service managed to render assistance to many unfortunate persons in distress.

The annual report of the superintendent of the service shows that a woman, "about to be buried over a bluff," was rescued by a life guard, while an intoxicated man about to fall off a dock, a man who had lost his way in a marsh, another who had broken through the ice, two others who had climbed 100 feet up the face of a cliff and were unable to descend, and still another, who tried to commit suicide, came within the vision of the vigilant guards, were saved.

During the last fiscal year there were 1,370 marine disasters involving the lives of 8,970 persons, that called the life saving service into activity. Seventy-two vessels were totally lost, although only 30 people gave up their lives in consequence.

The total value of the property involved in these disasters was $10,106,080, the value of property lost being $2,295,880. Of the 1,370 vessels mentioned in the life saving service rendered aid to 1,315, valued with their cargoes at $13,216,816.

TRAINMEN ASK FOR MORE PAY.

Will Demand Increased Wages from Seventy-Five Railroads.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 20.—Notices will be served to-day on about seventy-five railroad companies, all east of the Mississippi river, by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, that an increase in wages for the trainmen will be demanded, the increase to be from five per cent. to 40 per cent., the difference in the amount being caused by the present method of paying the trainmen, according to an announcement made here.

T. R. ROOSEVELT VISITS KISUMU

FORMER PRESIDENT'S PARTY PASSED DAY AMONG FIERCE FIGHTERS.

WARRIORS TO GIVE WELCOME

Region is Cursed by Outbreaks of Bubonic Plague and Sleeping Sickness, But Europeans Seem Immune from Diseases.

Kisumu, British East Africa, Dec. 20.—Col. Roosevelt and party will spend at least one day at Kisumu, or Port Florence. It is situated on the shores of Victoria Nyanza lake, in the gulf of Kavirondo.

It is the terminus of the railway and rises 3,500 feet above sea level. Kisumu possesses a dry dock, the highest situated in the world.

An extraordinary mixture of races will be there to welcome the Roosevelt party—Europeans, Indians, Galla, Burundians, half-bred Europeans and Africans, Swahili, Arabs, Nandi, Lumbwa, Kavirondo, Wakamba and others almost too numerous to mention. The arrival of the train is a tri-weekly event of great importance and the passengers it will carry on this particular occasion makes it doubly so.

Two Curses in Kisumu.

There are two curses in Kisumu, the sleeping sickness and intermittent outbreaks of bubonic plague. Luckily, Europeans seem to be immune, as so far there have been no reports of Europeans suffering from either disease at this place.

The Kisumu country is only fourteen by ten miles in extent and forms part of the vast Kisumu province. This small area was little known until after a punitive force had been sent up there in January, 1908, to settle with the natives for an attack made on the district commissioner when taken by a tribe which appears to be an offshoot of the Masai race. They are fierce and practically uncivilized.

Natives Fierce Fighters.

In 1905 the government sent an armed patrol of 150 King's African rifles through the country under command of Major Jenkins. Before that time the Kisumu had hardly seen a white man. They attacked the patrol in camp one day and charged right up to the barbed wire with reckless daring, despite the terrible fire from the Maxim and rifles. Scarcely of the natives fell and the patrol was permitted to finish the survey of the country.

Numerous attacks have been made in this region upon British officials.

REFUSES TO PROSECUTE WIFE.

Will Give Her Up as She's Happy with Another Man.

Evansville, Ind., Dec. 20.—Joseph Vaughn, 78 years old, a wealthy farmer living a few miles below town, has given up his wife, a pretty woman of 30 years, who eloped with a young man, and refuses to prosecute her because he says she loves the young man.

Last October Mrs. Vaughn eloped from home with John Layvine, a young farm hand who was employed by Vaughn. They took with them Vaughn's daughter, two years old. Vaughn has traveled several thousand miles in search of his wife and child, and finally found them at North Point, Tenn. He brought his child back with him.

VICEROY FEARS FOR TOURISTS.

Warns Washington Authorities of Anti-Foreign Outbreaks.

Peking, Dec. 20.—Fearing that, in view of the prevalence of anti-foreign feeling in Canton, he will be unable to give visitors due protection, the viceroy telegraphed to the Wai Wu Pu a request that the Washington authorities be asked to prevent the heavy influx of Americans scheduled to reach Canton next week.

The steamship agency has arranged for 700 tourists to visit Canton in parties of 200 a day. The viceroy fears such a cavalcade of chairs blocking the narrow streets might furnish cause for trouble and possible riots with which the police would be unable to cope.

QUADRUPLE LYNCHING LIKELY.

Alabama Mob in Pursuit of Four Negroes Charged with Murder.

Selma, Ala., Dec. 20.—A mob consisting of citizens of Arlington, Ala., is trailing Clinton Montgomery, a negro, and his three brothers, who are charged with murdering from ambush Saturday night A. L. Lewis, a prominent citizen. If the negroes are captured a quadruple lynching is expected.

The mob formed soon after the killing of Lewis, and despite the severe cold and rain has kept up the pursuit of the blacks.

Arlington is a small station on the Southern railway between Selma and Mobile.

Post Watson is Insane.

New York, Dec. 20.—William Watson, the English poet, who astonished the world recently by his bitter attack on the family of Premier Asquith, is declared by his brother to be insane and not responsible for his actions. The brother is Robinson Watson, who is in Montreal.

Explosion in Italy Kills Five. Naples, Dec. 20.—A manufacture of explosives near Caserta blew up, five persons being killed and five injured.

Individually.

Every human being is intended to have a character of his own to be what no other is, to do what no other can. —Channing.

HIGHWAYMAN KILLS MOTORMAN.

Wounds and Robs Conductor of Street Car, Negro is Sought.

East St. Louis, Ill., Dec. 20.—A negro highwayman shot and killed the motorman and fatally wounded the conductor of an Alta Stn street car near Fireworks station in the southern section of the city. The car bearing the bodies of the dead motorman and the unconscious conductor ran wild at high speed for more than four miles into the heart of the business district after the highwayman escaped from it.

The dying statement of the conductor is the only clue to the identity of the murderer and a general roundup of negro police characters is under way.

The conductor was robbed of his money belt and watch. The motorman was not robbed and evidently was killed while coming to the assistance of the conductor. There is talk of lynching as soon as it is certain the right man has been captured.

VAUGHAN FOLLOWS KING'S BODY

Fears Entertained Leopold's Will Attempt to Attend Barons's Funeral.

Brussels, Belgium, Dec. 20.—Despite the energetic protests of court functionaries, Baroness Vaughan persisted in following King Leopold's body when it was removed by torchlight from the pavilion at Laeken, where he died, to the royal palace in Brussels.

But the automobile in which she rode kept some distance behind the rest of the cortege and before reaching the city it turned about and sped back to Laeken. No doubt the baroness feared that she would be recognized by an indignant populace and that the consequences would be unpleasant for her.

Fears are entertained that the baroness will attempt to be present at the funeral, but she will be prevented from doing so at all costs.

Family Hit by Train.

Moomington, Ill., Dec. 20.—En route to their home in the country with their sled filled with Christmas packages, Walter Black and wife with their two-year-old baby and a neighbor farmer, James Sellman, were struck by an Illinois Central train, Black being instantly killed and the other three receiving injuries pronounced fatal.

Skin from 347 Volunteers.

Walla Walla, Wash., Dec. 20.—Skin from the bodies of 347 persons has been grafted upon the burned body of Reed Crowe, a young fireman who narrowly escaped electrocution when he fell across two power wires at the electric substation here two weeks ago.

REMOVE AN OBSTINATE CORK

Simple Implement Invented by Philadelphia for Pulling Most Tight-Fitting Stopper.

Every one will undoubtedly welcome the successful effort of a Philadelphia inventor to improve the old-fashioned corkcrew which has been in use for ages and still retains its original form. Attempts to pull a cork with the ordinary corkcrew in many cases ends disastrously to the person making the attempt, especially when the cork fits tightly in the neck of the bottle and refuses to be removed until the bottle has been placed between the knees and the corkcrews tugged at for several minutes. Then it invariably comes out with a sudden jerk, throwing the contents in all directions. Notice how simply and easily even the most tightly wedged cork can be withdrawn with the corkpuller shown in the accompanying illustration. After the corkcrew proper has been inserted in the cork, the upright arm forming a wedge is placed on the neck of the bottle. Using the handle as a lever, the most obstinate cork can be readily extracted without endangering the contents of the operator. When not in use, the corkcrew and wedge can be folded within the outer end of the handle, which is hollowed out to form a housing.

EARTH HAS DENSITY OF IRON

French Scientist Advances Theory Crust is 930 Miles Thick—Inside Called Barysphere.

A French scientist advances the following theory of the conditions of the interior of the earth, says the London Globe. The mean density of the earth is known to be more than five times that of water. As the outer layers of the crust have a very feeble density—water 1, rock an average of 1½—it follows that the interior must have a density of about 7.7, which is that of iron. He says that there is enough accurate information about the rigidity of the earth to make it fairly certain that this is slightly greater than steel. He calculates that the crust of the earth is about 930 miles thick. He calls the inside of the crust the barysphere.

WOMEN MAKE A PITIFUL PLEA

SEND PETITION TO U. S. CONGRESS FOR AMERICAN INTERVENTION.

TORTURE REBEL PRISONERS

It is Declared Zelaya's Adherents Are Conducting Reign of Terror at Managua and Their Punishment is Implored.

Managua, Nicaragua, Dec. 20.—A petition pitifully requesting the intervention of the American government and signed by many prominent women of Managua has been presented to United States, acting consul of the United States here. The petition sets forth the tortures to which Zelaya's prisoners have been subjected.

"Numberless prisoners," says the petition, "have been tortured in their cells in the penitentiary; their families have been impoverished; their lives have been crushed, and patriots have been killed in their efforts to end crime, extortion and tyranny and to prevent the assassination of Greece and Cannon."

"We implore you to bring the malefactor to justice that his many crimes may receive the punishment they deserve, and that he be not permitted to escape."

Property Confiscated.

For weeks the associates and adherents of Zelaya have been conducting a reign of terror. Their chief victims have been the best people in the country. Property has been confiscated, fathers and sons imprisoned, wives and daughters forced to submit to unspeakable outrages, dragged off to jail or cruelly injured. So appalling were the conditions that a large number of women met together and finally decided to submit their plea to the representative of the government whose warships are close at hand.

Vasquez Receives News.

Managua, Nicaragua, Dec. 20.—Messengers sent by Gen. Estrada, leader of the revolutionists, carrying news of Zelaya's resignation, reached Gen. Vasquez at the head of the Zelayan troops. Gen. Vasquez at once agreed to a conference.

Panama, Dec. 20.—The United States auxiliary cruiser Buffalo with 700 marines on board sailed for Corinto, Nicaragua, the nearest port to the capital, Managua. It is understood that the marines will not be landed unless such a step appears necessary.

Jose Madrid, judge of the Central American court of justice at Cartago, who has been put forward as a candidate for the presidency to succeed Zelaya, received an enthusiastic reception on his arrival here. Long before he reached the capital Madrid was the object of cheering crowds.

Troops Guard Madrid.

At this place the crowds awaiting the appearance of the candidate were extraordinary. Troops and police were out in force for the protection of Madrid, who proceeded on foot to a hotel through an almost impenetrable mass of people, the soldiers and detectives breaking a way through the solid ranks, pushing and throwing aside the frantic people.

In front of the park there were hostile cries against the attempt of the soldiers to clear the street and immediately 50 civilians, all of them residents of Leon, which is the home of Madrid, and the stronghold of the Liberals, who favor his candidacy, whipped out revolvers, brandishing them in the air. They formed a compact mass around Madrid, acting as his bodyguard and escorting him to his quarters.

For a moment the situation was critical. There were shouts of "Viva Leon; to Leon with Managua."

No shots were fired, however, and the procession went on its way. The presidential candidate's face was flushed and wore a look of anxiety. He was accompanied to the hotel by the Mexican minister, and from this place the crowds were shut out.

Will Accept Presidency.

Dr. Madrid, though seemingly well pleased at his welcome, made no speech. He said in an interview: "I shall accept the honor which has been offered me. I am not the candidate of Leon, but of the entire republic. My chief concern will be to appease the ancient sectionalism, which has divided certain localities."

Dr. Madrid said he was not certain how the revolutionists would receive him. He had sent a delegate to Bluefields to confer with the revolutionary leaders there, but his representative had not been permitted to land.

Gen. Estrada sent word that if he had come to treat for peace it was useless.

Gale Delays Atlantic Ships.

London, Dec. 20.—Incoming transatlantic liners report terrific weather during the passage. The Carmania, New York and America, arriving at Queenstown and Plymouth, respectively, were all greatly delayed. Four days out they met hurricanes from the eastward, with mountainous seas, which continued without intermission until Saturday night.

United States is Wearing Away.

The United States is wearing away at the average rate of one inch in 760 years. This result is computed from 20 years of stream gauging and water analysis by the geological survey, the engineer corps of the army and the weather bureau, supplemented by some state and municipal work. The stream carries off each year an average of 87 tons of dissolved solids and 160 tons of suspended matter for each square mile of surface—equivalent to a total of 270,000,000 tons of dissolved and 512,000,000 tons of suspended matter.

GROUND TO PIECES BY ST. PAUL TRAIN

Awful Death for Young Monroe Man on Saturday Evening Last—Corpses One Mass of Pulp.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Monroe, Wis., Dec. 20.—Ground into a pulp so that identification was almost impossible, the corpse of F. Brockhoff, aged twenty, a son of August Brockhoff of this city was discovered in the main track of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad Saturday night. Every bone in his body was crushed and the clothing and flesh were rolled into a compact, shapeless mass. Evidently the body had been wound around the axle of the caboose and when the train backed up the body was released.

As far as can be learned young Brockhoff, who has been working on a farm near Woodford, was returning home for Christmas and boarded the freight which arrives here about nine o'clock. Somewhere, about a mile west of the city, he either fell from the train or attempted to jump off and dropped between the cars. His mittens, shoes, hat and strips of his clothing were found here and it is thought that his body was caught by the axle of the caboose and wound around it tightly.

The rain on its arrival here backed onto a side-track and then out onto the main track and this action un-wound the body where it was found by a switchman who stumbled over it.

The head, crushed flat, was not found for an hour afterwards. The train was in charge of Conductor Dunwiddie and Engineer Moyers and Fireman Thiers were on the engine. A coroner's jury has been called and will meet again Thursday to fix the responsibility. The train was bound for Janesville.

SOUTH FULTON.—There will be a Christmas tree and exercises at the U. B. church next Thursday evening at eight o'clock. Everyone is cordially invited. Christmas exercises will be held next Friday in the Dist. No. 1 school house.

OMINOUS GESTURE.

"So your success is smaller than you." "Yes, she comes up just to there."

Mr. Bookkeeper— Give Yourself Time To Earn Bigger Pay

THERE are good fellows keeping books who hurl scornful jests at the man who says they ought to have an adding machine.

Most of us have, sometime in our lives, had "a system which does the work better than any adding machine."

On the other hand, you and I know there isn't a man made who can take a sum a mile long and add it up in the wink of an eye.

But we hate to say such things to Henry Penman because he might feel badly about it.

Where Pride Doesn't Count

But Henry is all wrong, nevertheless. He is priding himself on the perfection of work that really doesn't count—just like the man who prides himself on how well he writes letters in longhand.

I haven't prided myself on how good-looking a letter I could write—not since I had my typewriter.

But Henry, as aforesaid, seems to take pride in his ability to make 2 and 2 equal 4 every shot out of the bag.

Truth to tell, however, Henry doesn't always do it. He makes a slip once in a while; stops in the middle of an addition to look at the parade, or the dog fight—and then it's all off.

And Henry goes back to do it all over again.

Of course, Henry doesn't remember that—when he says he "never makes a mistake"—and Henry is perfectly honest, too.

A Little Homely Philosophy applied to the Work of a Bookkeeper

What Eats Up the Time

In fact, Henry doesn't make many mistakes, but he takes so blamed much time "making sure," that he hasn't had time to make more than $15.00 a week for the past ten years.

Which is rather hard on Henry's ambitions; to say nothing of the wife and little ones at home.

Henry is getting along—in years, I mean.

He's forty—a time when things ought to be happening to Henry's pay envelope; besides, the bell will soon ring and Henry will have to get an assistant, or hunt an easier job. Henry doesn't like to think of these things—they aren't exactly pleasant—but they can be forestalled now a deal easier than they can be cured later.

All of which comes to the moral:—

Give Your Mind a Fair Chance.

As a matter of fact—Henry, Penman's part of the business is a pretty important part. But all the time he takes writing down figures and adding them up, he is doing machine work—work that has nothing whatever to do with the "worth while" part of his brains. All the time he spends on that kind of work is wasted time—and he has mighty few hours left to make himself really count in the business—mighty little time to think—a thing no machine can ever do. Mighty little time to make the worth while part of his brains earn money for him.

Yes, Henry has brains—and a big knowledge of his employer's business. But he hasn't given his mind a fair chance.
